Tax Relief Announced for Flood Victims; $60 Million Project Concerns Labor Group

COLD SNAP HITS FLORIDA — Unusually heavy dress was in order in the shopping area of downtown Miami, Fla., as the temperature went down to 40 degrees. A reporter counted five hardy souls on the sands in a 20-minute tour of the beaches. (NEA photo).

New York, Jan. 11 (AP)—Department store executives heard today that "free-loading customers" are costing them too much money.

IN AN ADDRESS prepared for the 45th annual convention of the National Retail Dry Goods Assn., —James W. Baker, general superintendent of Chicago's Carson Pirie Scott department store, said:

"Have you ever stopped to think how much it costs you to give a customer 30-day charge accounts, free delivery, gift boxes, free men's alterations, free pin fittings, free checkroom services and many others? If you have not done so recently (but who hasn't?) why not get out your expense statement when you get home and total up the actual costs of these services in your store?"

The matter was reportedly discussed Tuesday night at a meeting of the Ulster and Sullivan Building Trades Council at 277 Fair street.

Following the meeting some of those attending were reported to have expressed themselves quite warmly on the question in informal groups about the city.

EFFORTS to reach Michael J. Doyle, president of the council, and Stephen Gill, secretary, were without avail this morning.

George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent of the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters, said he had "no comment," feeling that an announcement at this time would be premature.

Hal C. Purdy of West Caldwell, N. J., who purchased the land on which the homes will be built, said labor questions were not in his "province." Such information would have to come from an official of the organization which is building the homes.

Overworked electrical heating equipment caused blown fuses in power transformers during peak hours. Dealers in fuel oils and bottled gas reported unprecedented demands. Some stayed open at night to serve the steady stream of customers.

THE LENGTHY cold spell has caused damage estimated at 10 million dollars to Florida crops.

Miami's high yesterday was 67 degrees. A low of 42 was reported Tuesday morning. The weather bureau said it would be about the same today, and if the area does not warm up before Sunday, as predicted, it will be north Florida to 60 in the evening. A minimum of 50 was forecast for Miami, with 40 to 45 in the city's western suburbs.

Last night, strong northerly winds which have blasted the Miami area for several days switched temporarily into the southwest, but today they were back in the northwest and small craft warning flags still flew on both Florida coasts.

Miami's high yesterday was 67 degrees. A low of 42 was reported Tuesday morning. The weather bureau said it would be about the same today, and if the area does not warm up before Sunday, as predicted, it will be Miami's longest cold spell since 1918.

THE SALE OF portable heating units continued at a record pace and dealers selling permanent heating fixtures reported they were far behind on installations.

Overworked electrical heating equipment caused blown fuses in power transformers during peak hours. Dealers in fuel oils and bottled gas reported unprecedented demands. Some stayed open at night to serve the steady stream of customers.

PRICES OF FRESH vegetables skyrocketed. Wholesale buyers of beans and peppers at the Pomona State Farmers Market bid one fourth to one third more than last week. Tomatoes were reported to have reached $12 a bushel in New York.

Manager Jonathan A. Bliss of the Florida State Employment Office in Miami said recruiting of farm labor in other states had been stopped and it now appeared that the 7,800 migratory workers in Dade county would be sufficient in view of the cold. It had been planned to build the force to 10,000 by the season's peak.

THE COLD had just about stopped the harvesting of fresh vegetables in the Miami and Lake Okeechobee areas but in Broward county about 140 carloads of vegetables headed for market during the past two days.

This was explained by the spotty weather that took a heavy toll in Dade and Palm Beach counties but caused little damage in between. Considerable damage also was reported to the tomato crop in the Fort Pierce area, 120 miles north of Miami.

Pastures were seriously damaged in some sections.

Tender truck crops escaped major damage along the lower west coast and in the Pahokee area near Lake Okeechobee.

Rumors have been current that the area is to participate in the industrial expansion which has come to the mid-Hudson valley. It is rumored the lands may be acquired for a large steel plant.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 11 (AP)—It was warmer in south Florida last night but the weather bureau said it isn't ready yet to give the "all clear" signal on the freakish cold spell which has plagued the state for five days.

Miami's low temperature during the night was 47, five degrees higher than Monday night's minimum which set a record for Jan. 10, and it was several degrees warmer throughout the state.

"THIS MAY BE only a temporary trend," said a forecaster in the Miami weather bureau, which predicted "continued rather cold" weather through tomorrow. Tonight's lows are in the Red Hook area.

Investigation by union officials in Columbia county has resulted in nothing definite as to who may be interested in the area, other than the rumor that a large steel company may be involved. One rumor is that the United States Steel may be interested in the area which is rapidly becoming an industrial center.

George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent for the Kingston Metal Trades Council, AFL, today confirmed the report that a check was being made by Columbia county union officials in an endeavor to ascertain if the report of a large industrial expansion program for Columbia county had any valid foundation. No definite facts have been learned about the reported acquisition of options for lands, he said.

Steel Mill Is Reported Interested in Red Hook

Residents of Columbia county are seeking the answer to the reported acquisition of options on several hundred acres of property in the Red Hook area southward toward the Dutchess county line.

Rumors have been current that the area is to participate in the industrial expansion which has come to the mid-Hudson valley. It is rumored the lands may be acquired for a large steel plant.

For several months prior to the recent announcement that a $60 million community was planned in the Flatbush area of Ulster county, options were acquired but the purpose of the land acquisitions remained a deep secret. That procedure apparently is being followed on the east shore of the river in the Red Hook area.

Lions Hear About Point 4 Plan of U. S. in Bolivia

The work of the U. S. State Department's Point Four program in Bolivia was described in a slide lecture to the Lions Club Tuesday by Raymond Rignall, former principal in Kingston schools who for the past four years has been associated with the teacher training program in Bolivia.

Mr. Rignall said the program of the International Cooperation Administration under Point Four consisted of four different services: Education, health and sanitation, agriculture and transportation.

He explained that it was not a "give-away" program, that the bulk of the cost was undertaken by Bolivia. The United States will contribute $150,000 this year for education, Bolivia six times that amount.

Three-fourths of the population is Indian—"very intelligent"—and the office with which Mr. Rignall is associated "works exclusively with the Indians."

There are two teacher training schools and about 100 elementary schools under the program.

Bolivians from 15 to 40 years of age are taken into the teacher training program, Mr. Rignall said. "We don't have to sell education to Bolivia. They want it."

President Harry Gold announced there had been an 80 per cent attendance record during December and urged members to raise this to 95 per cent, the percentage recorded during the best attendance month in 1955.

He praised the "sensational" report of Dr. Stephen McGrath, chairman of the sight conservation committee which has been quite active in recent months.

Lions directors at their last meeting referred to committee a resolution to honor Past Tail Twisters at a special dinner.

It was also announced that the Exposition committee would meet at 7:30 p. m., today at the home of Warren Smith.

President Gold said Andy Murphy, chairman of arrangements for the Gene Autry show, had reported plans developing satisfactorily. Tickets will be on sale at Tommy Maines Sporting Goods Store exclusively.

Ike, Dulles Warn on Defeat In Contest With Red Nation

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles today called for the country to "wake up" to the economic and social contest with the Soviets in which defeat would be "disastrous."

The call was made in a statement which Dulles gave out at a news conference after checking it with President Eisenhower. He said Eisenhower suggested its release.

THE STATEMENT was prepared by the U. S. delegation to the recent UN General Assembly. The delegation sent it to Dulles who reviewed it with the President just before Christmas.

Dulles said he was giving it out today, at the President's suggestion, because this was his first news conference since the matter came up.

DISCUSSION made clear however, that he hopes the statement will help swing public opinion behind the administration's foreign economic aid request to Congress.

Parent-Teacher Group Schedules Activities

Woodstock, Jan. 10 — The Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association held its January meeting Thursday evening at the Woodstock School with plans outlined for further events. It was announced that a dance for the adults will be held February 18 and a minstrel show is to be presented on April 5 and 6. The dance has been considered an excellent suggestion as there has not been a large social gathering of this kind for some time and will offer an opportunity for the new members of the community to meet and enjoy an evening of dancing. No decision has yet been made concerning a band for the evening, but there will be round dancing, square dancing and the popular Paul Jones. The atmosphere will be informal and refreshments will be served.

The old-time minstrel show will be given for the annual fund raising drive and the proceeds will go to the music fund for the children and for other needs of the students. Miss Mary Harris is in charge of the production and talent. Miss Harris may be called at the school.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a pavement Plato: Many a white collar worker today believes he has become civilization's biggest sucker, the forgotten man of the 20th century.

His voice is relatively unheard in the land. Few politicians bother to ask his views or explore his plight. The only people who seek him out are bill collectors, and it is his cash, not his charms, that draws them.

Let us get out our crying towel and listen to the woes of a typical member of the paper clip brigade, which runs about as follows:

"EVERY OTHER class in America seems to get something special from the government except the white collar class. Why are we overlooked? When do we get our turn at the public trough?

"They talk about a soil bank for farmers. How about a fund to pay for our soiled white collars?

"Why can't Congress at least vote us some help under the foreign aid program? Certainly no group has been more foreign to government aid than the white collar class."

"They talk about a soil bank for farmers. How about a fund to pay for our soiled white collars?

"THERE IS at least an ounce of truth within this pound of bitterness.

Farmers have a lobby. Veterans have a lobby. The unions have a lobby. So do the railroads, the utilities, the airlines, the shipping interests. Even postmen, school-teachers, toy makers and amateur bird watchers have their lobbies.

About the only two groups in America who don't have a lobby are white collar workers and widows. They remain largely unorganized and therefore, perhaps, unrepresented. Since they cannot punish a politician, why should he worry about them?

TIME HAS passed the white collar man by. That white collar, once a badge of pretended gentility, has become more a symbol of faceless nonentity. It no longer pays off at the pay window.

It used to be the guys in overalls who stood in line at the loan office seeking to borrow money. Today it's the guys in the dirty-white collars.

Steel to Be Tight

New York, Jan. 11 (AP)—The steel supply picture will be tight for at least the first six months of the year despite cutbacks in auto production, The Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today. "With the general business outlook still on the rosy side, no steel consumer in his right mind is going to turn down an opportunity to add to his stockpile," it said. Iron Age also pointed out that the reduction in auto production is having little immediate effect on steel demand.

Lower Milk Price Indicated for 1956

New York, Jan. 11 (AP)—A milk market forecast for the next six months indicates farmers shipping to the metropolitan area will get a price averaging about 3 per cent lower than last year but their production will increase about 4 per cent.

Market administrator C. J. Blanford yesterday issued the following forecast on farm prices per hundredweight (46.5 quarts): January, $4.06 (down 11 cents from January, 1955); February, $3.98 (down 5 cents); March, $3.66 (14 cents less); April, $3.47 (10 cents less); May, $3.28 (16 cents less); and June, $3.32 (15 cents less).

Month-by-month milk production increases were forecast as follows:

January, 8.2 per cent over the previous January; February, 6.6 per cent; March, 4.5 per cent; April, 3.9 per cent; May, 0.3 per cent, and June, 1.7 per cent.

Blanford said the forecast was issued as a guide to the milk industry. He advised, however, that it is subject to revision since factors involved "are not all definitely known at this time."

DEPARTMENTAL WHIPPING BOY

So long as the world is marked by major trouble spots, the State Department, our agency of contact with the world, is bound to be blamed for some of the difficulties beyond our shores. But, particularly in a wild-swinging election year, we ought to try to keep these criticisms from going to foolish extremes.

Certainly the department is no more immune from criticism than any other agency serving the nation. But neither is it to blame for all the sins of the earth.

To listen to some of the comment, one would think that Secretary of State Dulles held the power to alter events from Murmansk to the southern tip of New Zealand—by the merest flick of a policy switch.

So Khrushchev said:

"... If you need assistance, tell us and we will help you. We will help you with engineers, and we will share our experience with you. . . ."

Of course, the United States has been doing all that and more through the Point Four program, but we are shy and reticent. Therefore, we get no credit for what we are doing. We still blow balloons up into the air and circulate pamphlets telling how wicked the Russians are but Khrushchev makes the world his hustings and delivers campaign arguments at every whistle stop in every country that lets him in. He promises heaven on earth and absorbs countries into the Soviet Universal State as though by osmosis, without firing a shot. Therefore, what he practices is not colonialism because Khrushchev and Bulganin are not Clive and Raffles. They are just two Marxists who make stump speeches on liberation and against colonialism.

"I address the generals, officers, and soldiers of the Union of Burma with a friendly wish for a further technical perfection. We, in the same way as you, are compelled to maintain armed forces. We bring them up in the spirit of love for the Motherland and in the spirit of being ready for self-sacrifice should this be required in the interests of defending our Motherland against the encroachment of foreign invaders."

What armed forces? Who has been trying to invade either Soviet Russia or Burma? Does one need only to use the telling words, false though they be. We Americans do not use the telling words. Our words have no hate in them, no vilification. We say that we believe in democracy but we do not say that we are capitalists, for the right of a man to keep and use his earnings, at his own risk and judgement, to gain or to lose in free competition with others.

No! We do not say that. What we say is democracy which no one defines so that there can be no mistake as to what we are talking about.

Others demand to know whether colonialism is democracy. We do not dare tell the wonderful story of the Western contribution to the weak and backward peoples of Asia and Africa, peoples who are even today adding to our woes and our costs of life.

When John Foster Dulles goes to Congress for more foreign aid, someone might ask him about that—what about what we have done for such a people like the Chinese from 1840 to 1945? And they accuse us, a people who have never taken an inch of their soil, of being colonialists. The time has come to give the lie to this accusation of colonialism.

It should not have to be said that the world is full of independent peoples who decide quite a few things for themselves, without consulting the U. S. State Department.

There's a considerable amount of anti-Americanism in various places, too, and a pretty good share of it probably got started before either Mr. Truman or Mr. Eisenhower occupied the White House. It is unlikely that Dulles can do too much about it in a short space of years, or that former Secretary of State Acheson could have in his time. Such attitudes yield slowly.

None of this means the State Department should close up, or just run consular service. Of course America, as the world's most powerful nation, influences in some degree what other peoples do and think and say.

The point is that we are but one force, one factor of many at work in the world. We, acting through our diplomats, cannot stem the floods in China nor make the rains fall in the Sahara.

It's something the politicians of both parties might remember as they put the nation's foreign policy on the block in the coming presidential campaign.

It's really silly to act foolishly—some may not think you're acting.

LONG LIFE IN RUSSIA

The Russian newspapers report that their country has 717 persons over 110 years of age, 40,000 over 90, and 4,425 whose ages run between 100 and 110. One case is announced of a woman in the Caucasus who is 145, and another from Stalin's Georgia who is 136. We are also told that lately the oldest person in the world died, another Russian, who reached the patriarchal age of 180.

People of sense know better than to believe a Russian official statement which is not corroborated by outsiders. The most charitable explanation of these remarkable records may be the one given for the alleged fact that married men live longer than single—"They don't. It merely seems longer."

Pravda, the chief Russian newspaper, gives familiar advice to those who would attain such advanced years. They should avoid worry, sleep regularly, avoid excessive smoking or drinking. This leaves out the most important requirement: Don't criticize the government.

Those who claim they can take it or leave it, oddly, always seem to be taking it.

COLONIALISM

One of the most unpopular words in the currency of all languages is colonialism. The impression is being given that colonialism is all bad and that the people of all colonies suffered from their oppressors; that no benefits whatsoever were gained through the great enterprise of establishing and maintaining colonies.

For instance, in Burma, Nikita Khrushchev said:

"The colonialists convinced the oppressed peoples that the colonial peoples are unable to administer their countries. This lie was extensively inculcated into the minds of the peoples in order to hold them in submission. But are not the Burmese just as gifted as, say, the Russians or the British? Peoples are not divided into capable or incapable ones. If they are given equal chances, they will achieve success in their development. (Stormy applause.)"

Stormy applause, indeed! What about Latvia, Lithuania, Poland? Are they not suffering from the worst kind of colonialism? What about Hungary or Czechoslovakia? And if the Burmese were as capable as the British, why did they never develop into a powerful state as little England did under Elizabeth?

But these questions were not asked in Burma. They are never asked because when the British, the French, the Dutch control some weak or backward nation, it is called colonialism; but when the Russians seize such a great country as Hungary or East Germany, it is called liberation. Does the change of words change the facts? It does if one goes by words not by facts, and so many do just that.

In this same speech in Burma, Khrushchev said:

"... If you need assistance, tell us and we will help you. We will help you with engineers, and we will share our experience with you. . . ."

THE DENTIST AND THE CHILD

What should be done about the six-year-old child who cries in the dental chair as his mother sobs by? About a previous co-operative girl of 11 who suddenly balks at dental care? About a girl, aged five, who refuses to eat or sleep after receiving dental care?

These were some of the cases analyzed at a symposium on "Emotional Problems in Children" presented at the 96th annual session of the American Dental Association. The problem cases were presented by dentists and the possible explanation of the behavior was given by psychologists and psychiatrists.

The five-year-old girl had accepted dental treatment calmly on two occasions but reacted violently at home afterward, appearing highly nervous and shunning any food or rest the remainder of the day. Studies have shown that the majority of parents of little girls (rather than boys) of that age continually emphasize the importance of "lady-like" conduct, sometimes resulting in severe repressions and delayed reactions in the child. The child does its best while at the dentist's office but tends to break out when at home. "The evidences of internal tension may become exaggerated when excessive demands for controlled and lady-like behavior are made by parents or others. Whether the situation can be remedied depends upon the ability of the child as well as the dentist to discuss things freely and upon whether the parents themselves are 'overcontrolled.' The child's delayed outbursts may be the result of a deep-seated anxiety."

In the case of the six-year-old boy, the mother informed the dentist in advance that her child was "very sensitive" and that both she and her husband were afraid of going to the dentist. The mother insisted upon accompanying the child into the office, the youngster kept crying, ignoring his mother's directions, which parroted the dentist's, and the dental examination was failure. It is felt that in such cases the dentist should induce the mother to return to the reception room. It is quite possible that such a youngster is putting on a show in the mother's presence and will be co-operative when she is absent from the office. "Some children mature in spite of neurotic mothers, while some remain permanently handicapped."

As for the case of the girl aged 11, she had been under dental treatment by the same dentist since the age of three and had been consistently a co-operative patient. Suddenly, her dental visits were marked by crying outbursts, despite lack of discomfort, and by refusal to listen to reason. The answer in this case was that research findings indicated a sharp increase in uneasiness among girls of this age, which usually subsides after a year or two. In a small percentage of such cases, however, there may be something seriously wrong mentally and emotionally and such a child will require the care or help of a psychiatrist or psychologist.

I do not think any of us look forward to going to the dentist and naturally this applies to children, but when a previously good patient becomes unco-operative, we should seek the cause.

New York, Jan. 11 (AP)—Police reported raids on two dice games early today.

Officers seized 20 men in a basement room at 1 Post avenue in the Washington Heights section of Manhattan and accused them of taking part in a game in which about $5,000 was in play.

The 20 were charged with disorderly conduct.

The raid was made about 3 a. m. by Capt. William Burrell and eight men from First Deputy Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy's special squad.

The raiders said they entered the basement from front and rear entrances and found the men around a portable dice table in a room adjacent to the boiler room.

Kennedy reported that 25 men were picked up in a raid on a similar game at 345 Avenue U, Brooklyn.

to reduce income taxes.

Among the proposals considered by the Diefendorf Commission were:

1. Submission to the voters next fall of a proposition to authorize a $750,000,000 bond issue and for enactment by the Legislature of a 50 per cent increase in state gasoline and diesel oil taxes. The voters last fall rejected a proposed Constitutional amendment to authorize a $750,000,000 bond issue for highways.

2. Submission of a $600,000,000 bond issue to the voters. If approved, a one or two-cent increase in gasoline taxes would be sought from the Legislature to pay off the bonds.

3. Levying of a one or two-cent increase in the gasoline tax at the current session of the Legislature. The revenue would be used to help finance an expanded highway building program on a pay-as-you-go basis. Another part of this proposal called for the Legislature to approve a Constitutional earmarking amendment this winter.

THE CHICAGO executive said too many retailers are afraid to charge for extra service.

"I'm thinking in terms now of those stores that charge for COD's or for gift boxes or for men's alterations or for pin fittings," he said. "Each time we enter into this we think in terms of how many customers we're going to lose. But in almost every case the pattern has been that while the customer at first is a little shocked, the complaints soon cease. Customers are reasonable and intelligent; they stop complaining when they realize that only those who require special service are paying for it."

An estimated 6,500 retailers from all over the United States are attending the convention here which ends tomorrow.

3. To determine the amount of a deduction allowable as a casualty loss you must first know what you paid for the property. If it was a gift, you may have no basis for claiming a deduction.

THE DEDUCTION allowable where you have an investment in the property damaged is the difference between the value of the property just before the casualty and its value immediately after. However, the loss may not be greater than the cost or, if the property has been depreciated for tax purposes, its depreciated value. Also, the loss must be reduced by any insurance or other damage compensation.

The value of the property just before the casualty may be greater or less than you paid for it.

THE VALUE after the casualty is determined by the actual damage done to the property. It is not determined by estimating the cost of restoration or replacement.

The value of shade and ornamental trees which are a part of the property damaged may be included in the deduction, but only as the whole value of the property is reduced by their destruction or damage.

Amounts you may receive from your employer or from relief agencies, in the form of cash or property for restoring your damaged property must be subtracted from your loss.

However, the value of food, medical supplies and other such "subsistence" help does not count against your loss.

Taxpayers with losses greater than their entire income for the year should get expert individual advice.

The Internal Revenue Service has prepared a special farm income tax bulletin which is available at the county agricultural agents office.

This bulletin is the most complete and accurate book or bulletin ever written on federal farm income tax returns," Professor Hart said.

Associate county agent Robert D. Guzewich said today that he would supply free copies of the bulletin upon request.

Social Security Will Cover Most Ulster Farmers

Nearly every farmer in Ulster county will be covered by Social Security as a self-employed operator beginning with the 1955 tax year.

Since the calculations for Social Security will be based on net farm profit, association county agricultural agent, Robert D. Guzewich has consulted with Prof. V. B. Hart, farm management and agricultural economics specialist at Cornell University to get answers to questions farmers have been asking in this area.

IN GENERAL, the larger a farmer's net farm profit, the higher will be both his federal income tax and his self-employment tax. But, in general, the more self-employment tax he pays the higher will be his Social Security benefits when he retires.

"This poses quite a problem for both young farmers who are just getting started in business and farm operators who are approaching the retirement age of 65," Professor Hart said.

The law allows a farmer certain choices in calculating his net farm profit that may have considerable effect on the amount of net farm profit he reports in any one year.

John Mager, chess expert who organized the local club, extends an invitation to all chess players in the vicinity.

At the organization meeting held last Sunday, Mr. Mager, former president and club champion of the Plainfield, N. J., chess club, gave a demonstration of multiple chess playing.

TEN TABLES were set up and Mr. Mager played across the board—ten simultaneous games as a demonstration for those present. He also gave a demonstration of the newer King's Knight opening in chess on the unique board made to his specification at his pattern factory in Tillson.

An interesting cross section of local players attended the organization meeting. Among them were Andy Pauker, Bernard Pauker, Attorney Joseph Avis, Ernest R. Root, Jerome Singer, Lawrence E. Larsen.

Others present were Roberta Elting, Robert DuMond, Robert M. Campbell, Dr. John Comstock, Carl Lundquist, Robert H. Daley, Nat Rosenbaum and William J. Lawson.

The club plans to meet every Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Moose Lodge.

Charleston, W. Va. (AP)—State Auditor Edgar B. Sims is the author of a new book exploring the historical background and basis for all land titles in West Virginia. Since 50 of this state's 55 counties were created before West Virginia broke off from Virginia, most of the research goes back to early acts of the Virginia Assembly. Sims looked up some laws as old as 1734. The book includes plats of grants made by Virginia to George Washington and his officers and leaders of the French and Indian War.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

March of Dimes Campaign Begins

Saugerties, Jan. 11—The 1956 March of Dimes campaign in Saugerties is now in full scale operation according to an announcement by John W. Davis, chairman.

Counter canisters have been distributed throughout the various places of business. The canisters this year display the picture of 5-year-old Tommy Woodward of Baltimore, Md., symbolizing the nation's polio victims who still need March of Dimes help. Coin cards have been mailed to the rural districts and early returns have already reached campaign headquarters.

There are at present three special events planned for the drive. The first will be the Blue Crutch Tag Day on Friday in which the Camp Fire Girls will participate under the direction of Mrs. Herbert DuBois. The girls will canvass on the streets of the business section from 6:30 to 9 p. m. selling little blue crutches to help buy real crutches for polio victims in the county.

Another Blue Crutch Tag Day will be held Saturday, Jan. 21 with the Charter Blue Birds participating under the direction of Miss Marian Newkirk. The Blue Bird group will sell crutches on the streets of the village from 1 to 5 p. m.

The committee headed by Mr. Davis urges every citizen to give generously to these children so that they may help other children who have been stricken with the dreaded disease.

The third event of the campaign will be the annual Mother's March on Polio which will be held Tuesday, Jan. 31, between 7 and 8 p. m. in the village and during the afternoon in the outlying areas.

Mrs. William Schaffer of Clermont street, Saugerties, is chairman for the march which is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary of Lamoureux-Hackett Post 72. Most of the volunteer workers are members of the Auxiliary and many others have also volunteered their help.

Mrs. Schaffer invites anyone who would like to help with the march to contact her by phone.

In pointing out the importance of the campaign this year, Mr.

Davis reported that the year opened with 68,000 polio patients from previous years still seeking aid from the March of Dimes. The Salk vaccine developed with the March of Dimes funds is a medical milestone but it was too late for the 30,000 stricken in 1955.

Until this vaccine becomes widely available and used, Mr. Davis said, millions of March of Dimes dollars must be marshaled on behalf of polio patients the world over and for the staggering expensive equipment many of them need when polio strikes.

"There is no way of guessing what the future will hold for us. We need all the help the public can give right now during the 1956 campaign," Mr. Davis said.

Scout Window Display Contest Rules Listed

Saugerties, Jan. 11—One of the annual features of Scout Week, February 6-12 will be the store window display contest for all units of the Saugerties District Boy Scouts.

The Saugerties District announced that the purpose of the annual event during Scout Week is to serve as an incentive for an increased amount of craft work and activity in each unit and also to serve as a public relations medium.

The displays are motivated to make the community more Scout conscious and also to make the sponsoring institution more unit conscious.

According to the rules set up by the District, store windows for the scout displays are to be secured by each unit. Displays are to be completed and in order by 5 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 4. All units making displays must notify the Scout Office in writing before Feb. 1 as to the location of the window display and the dates it will be exhibited. Units may secure as much help as desired in trimming windows.

Judging will be on the following basis: Craft work made since July 1, 10 points; attractiveness, neatness of display, 20 points; central theme depicting item in Scouting, 20 points; lighting effects, 10 points; degree to which entire unit has a part in planning window and working on articles displayed, 20 points; location of a store in relation to the community, 10 points and other mediums to draw constant attention of the public, 10 points.

The theme for Scout Week is "Onward for God and My Country."

In conjunction with the window display contest a parade and rally is planned. Government day during Scout Week in which a Scout of each unit assumes one of the 18 offices of the local village government will be observed Monday, Jan. 16 at 7:30 p. m. when the representatives of each unit meet with the Village Board and elect among themselves a complete slate of village officials.

These officials will preside and participate in a board meeting in February during Scout Week and will actually assume the responsibilities of that office for a day.

Krueger to Expand Newspaper Advertising

G. Krueger Brewing Company of Newark, N. J., will bank heavily on newspaper advertising during 1956 to maintain its position as one of the sales leaders among eastern breweries, Walter G. Baumhögger, president, told a company sales convention in Newark today.

Reporting that the 98-year-old brewing firm will run regular advertising schedules in over 50 daily and weekly newspapers and trade publications in New England, New York, and New Jersey this year, Mr. Baumhögger said Krueger plans "an intensive, high-frequency campaign."

The Kingston Freeman is one of the publications on the new Krueger schedule.

"We have conducted a well-balanced program of newspaper, television, radio, and outdoor advertising in recent years," Mr. Baumhögger told the 200 Krueger salesmen at the convention.

"Since sales gains in 1954 and 1955 have made it possible for us to expand our advertising program, we are going to put special emphasis on the newspapers as one of the proven ways to win new customers to Krueger, a real premium beer."

New Style of Trimming Makes Loin Even Better

REGAL FARE is provided by the king of all pork cuts, the loin roast. Its toasty crust adds to the deliciousness.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Good eating goes hand-in-hand with penny-saving when pork is on the menu. The low prices on this nutritious and flavorful meat provides first-aid to strained budgets.

The pork loin roast is the king of the fresh pork roasts and is selling at economy prices. Some budget-minded homemakers have found even greater economy in purchasing a whole loin and having this first cut chops cut from the rib end.

The center cut is prepared as a handsome pork loin roast and the loin is boned for chop suey, mock chicken legs or for casserole dishes.

The center cut of the loin usually sells for slightly higher price per pound, but by purchasing the entire loin, this choice section is available at the overall all low price.

Meat packers are trimming pork these days to make it an even better buy. You will find a "new look" in pork chops and loins, with the fat trimmed to no more than 1/4-inch, just enough for juicy, flavorful eating and to avoid a too-dry cooked product.

Sage can accent roast pork.

DUTY CARS-TRUCKS

Albany, Jan. 10—Time is running out for owners of trucks and station wagons who have not yet obtained 1956 motor vehicle registrations.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly reminded them today that the '56 tab must be on the upper right hand corner of the present license plate after midnight, Monday, Jan. 16.

The January 16 deadline applies to four types of registrations: commercial, trailer, suburban and farm vehicle.

With one week to go before the deadline, Motor Vehicle Bureau officials estimated that only about one-third of the affected vehicles have been registered for 1956.

Passenger car registrations expire at midnight, January 31.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

CASTLE GARAC
By Nicholas Monsarrat

258 pp.

This is a delightful Graustarkian novel, complete with ruined medieval castle, beautiful maiden in distress, rescuing knight errant and suspense that grows and grows.

It all starts with Thomas Welles, young Boston journalist, stranded in Nice while he waits for news from his American agent about the fate of the novel which he stayed in France to write after being de-mobilized from his army unit in Korea.

Just when Tom's financial position is at its lowest ebb, he, driven by hunger, snatches a large French roll and a discarded cigarette from the table of the only other person in the cafe, where Tom was having his meager breakfast of coffee—and nothing else—while the other diner was answering a telephone call.

That other diner was Paul Ehrenhart, an adventurer in a large way. He saw Tom's act but ignored it and when he returned to his table invited Tom to join him at his table and offered him a well-paid job as confidential secretary.

That afternoon Tom called for orders at Ehrenhart's suite in the Hotel Negresco and was met by Paul's beautiful, seductive wife, Anna. His first duty seemed to be to square Anna about to expensive restaurants, gambling casinos etc. while Paul and his elderly partner, Hugo Forchet, were away on some mysterious business of which Tom was kept in ignorance. After a short time Tom was given a definite assignment, a rented car and a large expense account. He was instructed to travel about the surrounding country to find a secluded, unoccupied castle with a tower, a chapel and a high wall. After several amusing and or aggravating experiences he found Castle Garac, which came as near as any to answering the requirements. It was an authentic castle, occupied continuously by some member of the Garac family until 12 years ago when the whole family—the Count and Countess Garac and their seven-year-old daughter were believed to have been murdered by drunken Italian soldiers.

Then Tom's next duty was revealed. He was to find a 19-year-old blonde French girl of aristocratic appearance with no family ties who could disappear for some time without causing comment. Tom rebelled until he was assured by Paul that no harm would come to the girl and that the contract would be greatly to her advantage.

It looked like an impossible task but oddly enough Tom found exactly the right girl in a nursemade he met in the park. The trouble then was that he immediately fell in love with Anna.

After carefully weighing the disadvantage for Anna of marrying him with his limited financial outlook and the advantages which Paul promised, Tom reluctantly carried out his part of the bargain and introduced Anna to Paul. He arranged an interview at the same cafe on the Riviera where he first met Paul, and left them. He planned to meet Anna later that evening. But when he went to the Hotel Negresco to see about further orders from Paul he found that Paul and Anna had checked out, leaving no forwarding address, only a large check as terminal pay. When he called at her employer's home for Angela he learned that she, too, had disappeared, leaving Tom in the depths of despair.

Of course it would happen just too late. The next morning the long awaited letter from the literary agent arrived, enclosing an advance payment of $500.

Not only had his novel been accepted for publication but motion picture rights had also been sold. Tom could count on at least $58,000 from these sources. Riches indeed which turned to ashes when he thought of his lost Anna.

However Tom did not give up. He suspects that she has been taken to the Castle Garac and goes there to investigate under cover of darkness. Sure enough at a candle lighted window in the tower he sees her, after scrambling over a break in the wall and being nearly killed in the attempt. He discovers just where Angela fitted into Paul and Anna's ingenious scheme and he nearly murder Paul, Angela and Hugo.

The last chapters are packed with excitement and mystery. Surprises are sprung by Anna and by Angela which keep up the suspense to the end of the book.

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are

The following letter comes from a recent bride: "Will you please tell me if it is proper for a bride to invite her family and friends to her new house, or should they go by themselves to call on her. I was recently married and when none of my friends came to visit me I wondered why and was told that they were waiting for me to invite them. Shouldn't they come on their own accord, calling me first, of course, to see if I will be at home?"

It would have been correct for them to call on you without waiting for your invitation. But since a surprising number of persons do not know this, you yourself should in kindness invite them first.

Eating Pineapple

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening a friend and I had dinner at one of the hotels here in town. For the first course we were served fresh pineapple cut into moon-shaped quarters. The edible part of the pineapple was cut into small triangular pieces and set back into the pineapple skin. On top of one of the pieces of pineapple was a toothpick with a cherry on it. My friend used the toothpick to pick up the pieces of pineapple. I used a fork. I think he was wrong to use the toothpick. Will you please tell me which one of use was right?

Answer: Because you were seated at a dinner table, very definitely you were right.

Taking Something for Hostess

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a bachelor and have been invited to dinner for the first time in the house of a friend of mine who was recently married. I met his wife just once. I would like to know if I should bring something for the hostess, such as a box of candy of flowers?

Answer: It is not necessary nor usual to take anything.

10 Families Burn Out
Whitehall, N. Y., Jan. 11 (AP)—Ten families were left homeless by a fire that destroyed two apartment buildings in this northeastern New York village yesterday. Twenty-one adults and 15 children fled the flames. The blaze began on the second floor of a two-story frame building and spread to a three-story brick building, firemen said. Cause of the fire was not determined. Firemen from seven communities helped local fire-fighters. Whitehall is northeast of Glens Falls, near the Vermont state line.

Olympia, Washington, is in the same latitude as northern Maine.

New York, Jan. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Mabel Morris, a 74-year-old London-born widow who receives support from the city welfare department, came through with answers to a complex question about Charles Dickens last night to win $32,000 on a television quiz show. She will get a chance to double her money next week when she returns to the CBS network program, "The $64,000 Question," or she may elect to stop with $32,000. Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white gown of lace and net. Her veil was attached to white tiara and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses on a prayer book.

Miss Edy Block, Lake Carmel, was maid of honor. Her gown was of blue net with matching tiara and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Jacqueline Owen, Rochester, Miss Marcella Treglia, Bronx, and Miss Ruth Davis, Peekskill. They wore pastel gowns of orchid, mint green and pale yellow and carried nosegays of pink and yellow roses.

The bridegroom graduated from Roosevelt High School, Yonkers, attended Syracuse University and is in the service of the U. S. Air Force stationed at Lowry Field, Denver, Colo.

A reception was held in Sloat Hall of Drew Church following the ceremony.

Tunnel Blocked

New York, Jan. 11 (AP)—A seven-car pileup in the Queens Midtown Tunnel yesterday just before the evening rush hour caused a huge traffic jam that eventually spread over two square miles in Manhattan and lasted nearly two hours. The trouble started when the brakes of a truck failed to work and it crashed into a line of cars stopped behind an auto with a flat tire. Three persons were injured. The damaged cars sprawled across the tunnel, choking off all Queens-bound traffic. Within 15 minutes one lane of the tunnel was reopened but this was not enough to drain off the huge backlog of cars that jammed surrounding streets.

Teamsters Will Meet Thursday

Teamsters Local 445, AFL, will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Ulster County court house, it was announced today by Theodore G. Daley, secretary-treasurer.

He urged membership of the local in the Kingston area to attend, pointing out that it was the purpose of the newly elected officers to encourage the fullest participation of the membership in activities of the local.

"Some of the members claim they have not had proper representation in the past," he said. "We intend to see that these members are protected in their rights and privileges as members of Local 445."

Local 445 includes Orange, Dutchess, Ulster, Rockland and part of Putnam counties.

No Priorities Rule For Seaway Job

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—The St. Lawrence seaway is not eligible for military priorities, under a new order issued by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

ODM Director Arthur S. Flemming yesterday specified that government allocations of steel, copper and aluminum may be made only for activities "directly related" to the military and atomic energy programs.

This would exclude, a spokesman said, not only the seaway but the freight car, merchant shipbuilding and some other programs.

If ODM had approved the seaway, the spokesman said, it would have been difficult to exclude any numerous production and construction programs carrying indirect defense benefits.

Ives Believes Ike Will Run Again

New York, Jan. 11 (AP)—Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) says he is inclined to believe that President Eisenhower—"contingent on his health and how he feels about it"—will decide to run again.

"I want the President to run again," Ives said yesterday in a question-and-answer period before the Women's National Republican Club. He added, however, that he does not think "we have any business trying to force him to run" if Eisenhower should decide otherwise.

Ives said "we all know" Eisenhower does not want to seek re-election, but he said he believes he will run out of a sense of duty.

If Eisenhower does run, Ives added, "nothing will stop his re-election."

Courtyard Collapses

New York, Jan. 11 (AP)—A concrete and rock courtyard collapsed and tumbled 60 feet down a precipitous slope in front of a Washington Heights apartment house today, leaving 45 families with rear fire escapes as their only exits from the building. The five-story walkup apartment house is located at 65 Wadsworth Terrace, near 190th street. The slope on which it was built is so steep that the building is actually about 80 feet above street level. Gerald Marcus, a first-floor tenant, said he heard a loud "explosion" about 2:30 a. m. today but could not determine its cause. Then, at 4 a. m. he thought he heard water running, looked out the window and saw that the courtyard and sidewalk in front of the building had disappeared.

Gas Leak Blamed

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 11 (AP)—Investigators say gas leaking into a cellar from a broken main caused an explosion and fire that demolished one dwelling and damaged two others in a residential section here yesterday. The blast and fire caused minor injuries to a woman and four firefighters. Damage to the three homes was estimated by fire authorities at $35,000. A two- and-a-half story frame dwelling to Mr. and Mrs. John S. McCoy was wrecked and set afire by the explosion.

No Priorities Rule For Seaway Job

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—The St. Lawrence seaway is not eligible for military priorities, under a new order issued by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

ODM Director Arthur S. Flemming yesterday specified that government allocations of steel, copper and aluminum may be made only for activities "directly related" to the military and atomic energy programs.

This would exclude, a spokesman said, not only the seaway but the freight car, merchant shipbuilding and some other programs.

If ODM had approved the seaway, the spokesman said, it would have been difficult to exclude any numerous production and construction programs carrying indirect defense benefits.

In today's hand South is faced by a classic choice. Should he try to set up his own hand by developing the clubs, or should he try to set up the dummy by ruffing out all the hearts?

If South draws trumps, the choice will be taken out of his control. The rounds of trumps will leave declarer with only three trumps for dummy's four hearts. This will make it impossible for him to establish the dummy. Moreover, the opponents can make South ruff hearts often enough to prevent him from bringing in the long clubs. Thus both plans will fail.

South can make the contract by preserving both lines of play as long as possible. Eventually, the opponents will have to commit themselves, and then South can proceed with one plan or the other.

South ruffs the first round of hearts, cashes the ace of clubs, and gives up a club. The defenders cannot afford to lead trumps, for then South will proceed to establish his clubs. The best defense is to lead another heart, and South ruffs again. Declarer then gives up the other club trick.

Once more the opponents have a problem to which there is no solution. If they lead trumps, South can bring in the clubs. If the defenders lead a third heart, South will ruff and will enter dummy with the ace of diamonds to ruff a fourth heart. After this, the opponents can take only their top trump, but South will make his contract.

Poughkeepsie Spills Kingston Squad With Late Rally, 67-54

PHS Overcomes Maroon Margin, Gains Sixth Win Phillips, Johnson Grimaldi Stand Out

By CHUCK NORD
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Breaking away from Kingston High School in the home-stretch, Poughkeepsie High steamed along on its path to a DUSO basketball pennant last night before a large crowd at the Kate Walton field house, gaining a 67-54 victory.

Five minutes before the game ended, the Kingston quintet was on the threshold of glory; the locals appeared about to achieve one of the biggest upsets in DUSO history.

But the Pioneers were superb with the pressure on them. They regained the lead with five minutes remaining, and before time ran out had poured 17 points through the hoop; Kingston made only two free throws.

THE VICTORY was Poughkeepsie's sixth without a loss. The only top contender the PHS five hasn't met is Port Jervis. Kingston, now with a 2-2 DUSO record, has another tough tilt ahead Friday night at Newburgh Free Academy.

The estimated 1,600 persons who were on hand witnessed an exciting, see-saw battle between two skilled teams. In the end, it was Poughkeepsie's experience that told.

Kingston outrebounded and outshot the Bridge City squad until the midway mark in that final period. Then the locals fell apart as Poughkeepsie's sparkling guards, George Phillips and Charley Johnson, turned on the heat.

Phillips, who didn't score until midway in the third quarter, was unstoppable in the stretch. He fired 10 points in a spectacular shooting display. Johnson added six in the fourth quarter and directed the attack.

The PHS victory surge ruined a fine comeback by Jack Gilligan's club. The Maroons started fast, were overhauled in the second period, kept on even terms during the third and then shot ahead as the fourth quarter began.

It looked like Kingston's night when Tony Grimaldi's jump shot, and a tap-in and two foul shots by Richie Strong sent the locals in front by 50-46.

Poughkeepsie reeled off five quick points, however, to lead by 51-50.

THEN GRIMALDI, who played the best game of his career, scored from close up to send the Maroons ahead again. But Poughkeepsie couldn't be denied.

Johnson threw in a set shot. Blond-haired Phillips fired two quick one-handers and a jump shot and the Pioneers had a commanding 59-52 lead.

The PHS defense, meanwhile, pressed the Kingstons ever tighter. The Maroons couldn't stand the squeeze.

Grimaldi again broke the KHS scoring famine, this time with a foul shot. But the locals tallied only once more during the closing minutes as Poughkeepsie defended with full-court press, Sam Kalloch's players won going away.

Phillips and Johnson were the leaders in the late drive. But

DEUCE BY LONG—Throwing in two points with a jump shot is Kingston guard Al Long. Poughkeepsie's Stu Sonne, in the background, was the game's top scorer with 21 points. (Freeman photo).

Port Jervis kept its DUSO League basketball record unbroken last night with a 69-63 victory against Liberty.

The Porters, who have won four straight, get their acid test Friday afternoon at the Poughkeepsie High School "basket bin." The DUSO pennant may hinge on the outcome.

In other games last night, Newburgh rolled over Middletown, 83-68, to take undisputed possession of third place. Kingston's 67-54 loss to Poughkeepsie dropped the Maroons to fourth. Ellenville halted Fallsburgh, 69-63.

ALEX OSOWICK, Port Jervis' six-four center, turned in another fine performance as he canned 18 points. Joe Regelski added 11. John Lawrence rimmed 20 for Liberty.

Ralph Cook and Al Beccaccio racked up 25 points apiece for the Newburghers. Bob Hoaglander and Dale DeGeorge notched 14 apiece as the NFA squad won easily. Sherk Myers hooped 23 and Charley Springer steadied 14 for Middletown.

Bob Brown's 26 points paced Ellenville. Jay Kinsbrunner of Fallsburgh tallied 16.

Satterfield 8-5 To Beat Holman

Chicago, Jan. 11 (AP)—Bob Satterfield, one of boxing's most lethal punchers, came for his 31st knockout victory tonight against another slugging Chicago heavyweight, Johnny Holman.

Satterfield, 32, will be spotting from 15 to 20 pounds to his foe in the nationally televised 10-round fight at Chicago Stadium (10 p.m. EST—ABC). But Beiting Bob twice clobbered Holman in 1954 and also has taken care of such other big boys as Nino Valdes and Bob Baker in compiling a 40-19-3 record.

In his last fight, Satterfield—No. 6 light heavy in the current Ring Magazine rankings—scored a ninth round kayo over Paul Andrews at Buffalo last month.

Pioneer JV Scores Victory Over KHS, 58-40

Lawrence Leads Poughkeepsie Team

Looking almost as classy as its varsity colleagues, Poughkeepsie High School's junior varsity handed the Kingston jayvees a 58-40 setback at the Kate Walton field house last night.

The game was played in much the manner as the varsity duel which it preceded.

Kingston led early in the game, fell behind in the second period, stayed with its foe in the third and was overrun in the fourth.

Colzell Lawrence, a sharp-shooting speedster, led the PHS victory, canning 18 points. Ronnie "The Stork" Jones, six-foot-five PHS center, had a dozen.

LAWRENCE and Eugene "Deke" Johnson, brother of the varsity's Charley, are slated to move up to the varsity after examination week. They will replace the older Johnson and George Phillips, who will have used up their eligibility.

George Uhl and Charley Williams topped the Kingston juniors with 14 and 12 points respectively.

The PHS juniors are unbeaten to date. Kingston has lost two of six.

Six-Team Electrol League Second 100 Per Cent Entry

The six-team Electrol League is the second 100 per cent loop to file for participation in the 19th annual Kingston Bowling Association's city championships tournament manager, announced Tuesday night.

Receipt of the six-team entry boosted the KBA team roster to 33 today. The other 100 per cent entry was received last week from the Nocando circuit.

TOURNAMENT Manager Norton also reported at Tuesday's regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the KBA that entries for the minor event also appeared to be encouraging at this stage.

"They are a little below last year's figure at the time but we are sure they'll increase in the next couple of days," he added.

At the present time, 12 two-man squads have entered the competition, 23 bowlers in the singles and 22 for the all-events.

The team event is scheduled to get underway Monday, Feb. 6 at Ferraro's Bowldrome and will continue through Friday, Feb. 10. The singles and doubles will be rolled at the New Paltz Alleys starting Friday, Feb. 10, and will conclude Sunday, Feb. 12.

NORTON ALSO reported this morning that the prize, schedule and average committees would meet next Wednesday night, Jan. 18, at 277 Fair street to conclude the pre-tournament plans. He also pointed out that additional entry blanks are now at Mannie's Barber Shop on Broadway.

During last night's KBA session, President Mannie Colao appointed Bill Lawrence to fill the unexpired term of Jack Blinder as second vice-president, who has resigned from the board due to working conditions. Lawrence served as fourth vice-president during the 1954-55 season.

Bob Lynch, eastern area field representative for the American Bowling Congress, attended last night's session and briefed the members on the national tournament scheduled for Rochester and the state competition to be held in New York city. Lynch also pledged his continued cooperation in all bowling matters affecting the local organization and its bowlers.

BOWLING SCORES

Ed Wyant, a kegler who has been camped at the entrance to the Hall of Fame for a long time, hit the jackpot last night.

The dry cleaning expert smashed games of 233, 190 and 226 for 649 and a new Booster League individual record for the season.

It was also a career record for the Morgan's No. 2 pinster.

ADAM THIEL reeled off games of 155, 192 and 200 to pace the Federation National with 547.

ED FEENEY contributed 18 points and Butch Tomaszek 16 to the Rebel cause. Lucas drilled 20 and Short 18 for Augustine's. Don Van Buren was the big man with 24 points as Frank's ran away from the Rangers from the opening whistle. They led 21-10 at the break and piled up a 41-10 margin in the second half.

George Smith and Frank Semper rimmed 11 apiece and Al Chase hit 10 for Frank's. Vince Perpetual led the Rangers with 10.

Two Persons Hurt In Local Collision

Two persons were injured in a two-car collision at Cornell street and Bruyn avenue Tuesday.

Helen Emmick, 36, of 66 Hard- ing avenue, was treated by a doctor for a head injury and later taken to Benedictine Hospital and James Lindsay, 30, of 58 Meadow street, reported injuries of the head and left arm.

A police report at 8:09 p. m. said a sedan, owned and driven by Helen Emmick was headed west on Cornell street, and a car owned and operated by Lindsay was going south on Bruyn avenue. The Lindsay car was towed from the scene, the report said.

High Tuesday Was 47 in City

A high temperature of 47 degrees yesterday was a rare one for the date, but it was no record locally, the city engineer's office reported today.

The 47 was recorded at 1 a. m. It was beaten by a 48 on the same date in 1935. Also in that year the mercury hit a high of 54 on Jan. 9 and the low for that date was only 48.

Another high for Jan. 9 was a temperature of 50 degrees in 1949.

The overnight low today was 40 shortly after midnight. It remained that way until 3 a. m., when the mercury went up a point. It went back to 40 at 5 a. m., and continued at that point until 9:30 a. m., when it dropped a degree.

2 Are Arrested On Assault Count

Lauren and Grover Dunn, both of Tillson, were arrested early this morning by Kingston state police on a charge of assault third degree involving the alleged striking of the complainant, Edward Vertallo of New Paltz.

The reported assault occurred about 12:30 a. m. outside the Elms Restaurant in the village of Rosendale. Lauren, 46, and Grover, 49, were arrested by Troopers Raymond Kowalsky and J. E. Girtton.

They pleaded innocent when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Wilfred Doolittle and were released in $100 bail each pending a hearing before Judge Doolittle at 7 p. m. Friday.

To Review Conviction
Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11 (AP)—Ohio's Supreme Court today agreed to review the conviction of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard for the second degree murder of his pregnant wife, Marilyn. Sheppard is serving a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary for the bludgeon slaying in his Bay Village home west of Cleveland on Lake Erie on July 4, 1954. The 32-year-old osteopath entered prison last July 20 after a trial that attracted nationwide publicity.

Piper plane—stripped of its fabric—and alongside it a body covered with an Indian lance.

However, air force headquarters in the canal zone said its report from the search pilot placed the body about 300 or 400 yards from the plane and made no mention of a lance.

The air force emphasized that this report made no identification of the body, either as that of a white man or an Indian.

The mission party set up its base about a week ago at Shell Mera, an oil company headquarters.

Saint first flew McCullly and Youderian to the jungle clearing, then returned to Shell Mera where his wife had remained to receive communications from the party.

On Saturday, McCullly and Youderian reported friendly contact with the Aucas. Saint took off again Sunday with Elliot and Fleming.

Shortly after landing at the scene, Saint messaged his wife that he would transmit again at 4 p. m. At that time he began sending another message, then broke off to tell of the approaching Aucas. It was his last word.

The last message: "Here come a group of Aucas whom we have not known before."

Roundup of Albany Bills

By HARVEY TRAVIS
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 11 (AP)—Separate elections to take up Constitutional amendments alone have been proposed to help the puzzled voter.

Sen. Peter J. Dalessandro, Watervliet Democrat, introduced a bill yesterday that would authorize the Legislature to set special election dates for submission of amendments.

Amendments now are submitted at general elections. Some voters complain this is confusing, particularly when there are a number of proposed changes in the Constitution. Last November 10 amendments and one proposition were put to the electorate.

TWO REPUBLICAN lawmakers proposed a "humanizing" medical deduction on state income taxes.

Sen. Edward J. Speno of Queens, and Assemblyman Frank Samansky of Brooklyn, Democrats,

ASSEMBLYMAN Elisha T. Barrett of Suffolk county and Sen. Walter G. McGahan of Queens proposed ceilings on the rates that could be charged for financing installment-buying of automobiles.

Declaring that their bill was directed at "unscrupulous financing installment-buying of automobiles."

Declaring that their bill was directed at "unscrupulous financing installment-buying of automobiles."

The bill lists these maximum credit service charges on unpaid balances: 6 per cent of new vehicles, 9 per cent on two-year-old vehicles, and 12 per cent on vehicles more than two years old.

The measure also would require compulsory rebates on sales contracts paid in advance, and itemizing of insurance and finance charges in contracts.

ANOTHER MEASURE dealing with installment financing was introduced by McGahan and Assemblyman Justin C. Morgan, Buffalo Republican.

The bill would make it a misdemeanor to get a signature on an incomplete contract with intent to deceive.

A state conference of bankers and credit men yesterday urged corrective legislation in this field. The 14-member group held a closed meeting with Gov. Harriman and his consumer counsel, Mrs. Persia Campbell.

McCloskey also proposed allowing deductions for medical costs amounting to more than three per cent of net income.

The Campbells teamed up on a measure that would provide a 40-hour week for municipal officers and employees outside of New York city, except for legislative officers and employees.

The sponsors were Sen. Thomas F. Campbell of Schenectady and Assemblyman Donald A. Campbell of Montgomery county, both Republicans.

Sen. Earl W. Brydges and Assemblyman Ernest Curtis, Niagara Falls Republicans, proposed the same maximum for state park patrolmen.

The 40-hour week for registered nurses, except in cases of emergency, was proposed by Sen. Joseph Zaretzki of Manhattan.

They were Madelyn Cook, 24, of 5 Miller's Lane, and Susan Heassler, 3, a passenger in the car operated by Mrs. Cook. Mrs. Cook suffered lacerations of both legs and the child a laceration of the right cheek.

Destroyer Is Floated
Norfolk, Va., Jan. 11 (AP)—The escort destroyer Baseline, grounded off Cape Henry since early last Thursday, was floated this morning. The navy said the Baseline was floated at 6:35 a. m. and pulled clear at 7:10 a. m. The navy was building up to a major pull to take place at the 6:45 a. m. high tide. At 6 a. m. the Baseline reported definite movement and at 6:35 a. m. reported she was apparently afloat.
